Share@Rosewood Feedback from 'Holidays' event

It was great to have some new faces today and some old ones too! Great to hear that it is possible to get out and get away for a holiday with some careful planning and advanced knowledge.

I have created a table of places to go or stay with the key information.

In addition there are some links for places to hire equipment or other helpful things such the fantastic 'Sam's new wheels' YouTube videos!

I will look into some specialist insurers for families and organisations that do house swaps for holidays and possibility of setting up a disability network of swappers and swappees.
